PRIMARY CARE CONFERENCE 2013

PRESENTED BY: LECOM

Peek'n Peak Conference Center
Findley Lake, New York
March 1-3, 2013

Moderators:

Mark Kauffman, DO, MS (Med Ed)

Dr. Kauffman is LECOM Assistant Dean of Graduate Studies, Clinical Associate Professor Of Family Medicine and Director of the Accelerated Physician Assistant Pathway. He is a LECOM Class of 2000 graduate and earned the MS Med Ed at LECOM in 2010. He is the author of History and Physical Examination: A common sense approach. Dr. Kauffman did his post-graduate residency training at Millcreek Community Hospital.

Carmine D'Amico, DO

Dr. D'Amico is a clinical associate professor of internal medicine and cardiology at Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine and assistant director of clinical education. He graduated with his osteopathic medical degree from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. After finishing his internal medicine residency at Millcreek Community Hospital, he completed a cardiology fellowship at Deborah Heart and Lung Center. Dr. D'Amico is certified by American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine as a Diplomat in Cardiology and Internal Medicine and by National Board of Osteopathic Medical Examiners where he is on the COMLEX Level 2 New Item Review Committee. He has specialized training in non-invasive/nuclear cardiology and invasive/Interventional Cardiology and has hospital appointments at Millcreek Community Hospital and Hamot Medical Center in Erie.

Regan Shabloski, DO

Dr. Shabloski is LECOM Associate Dean of Clinical Education. Dr. Shabloski is a graduate of Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine. He is a Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Army and recently completed a tour of duty at a military base hospital in Iraq.

Conference Faculty

Jeffrey Ian Bass, Psy.D.

Dr. Bass is a Major in the Medical Services Corps, United States Army. He is currently serving as the fifth psychologist accepted for training at the Department of Defense's only post-doctoral Forensic Psychology Fellowship at the Walter Reed National Medical Center in Bethesda, Md. This two-year fellowship is the first and only APA Accredited Forensic Psychology Fellowship Program in the country. Dr. Bass earned his doctor of psychology degree at Alliant International University, California School of Professional Psychology, San Diego, Cal.

Stephen Bell, DO

Dr. Bell is a 2002 Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine graduate. He is currently the President of Newport Internal Medicine in Newport, Mich., and serves as Medical Director for Great Lakes Weight and Wellness. He completed his graduate training at Oakwood South Shore Medical Center in Trenton, Mich., where he was Chief Resident. He is board certified in internal medicine through the American College of Osteopathic Internists, and it is currently pending through the American Society of Bariatric Physicians. In addition to the practice of adult primary care, Dr. Bell maintains a professional interest in the prevention and treatment of "Metabolic Syndrome/Syndrome X" and bariatric medicine.

Greg Coppola, DO

Dr. Coppola is board certified in family medicine, sports medicine and neuromusculoskeletal medicine. He is a licensed medical acupuncturist. Dr. Coppola is co-director of the LECOM Sports Medicine Fellowship program and works for Medical Associates of Erie as a Sports and Integrative Medicine physician. He is a LECOM clinical professor of osteopathic practices and principles. Dr. Coppola serves as a team physician for the Erie BayHawks of the NBA Development League and team physician and medical advisor/faculty with Mercyhurst College Sports Medicine. Dr. Coppola graduated from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. He completed a sports medicine fellowship at Michigan State University and integrative medicine fellowship at University of Arizona.

Carlo DiMarco, DO

Dr. DiMarco is a professor and regional dean of clinical medicine at LECOM and director of the ophthalmology residency program at Millcreek Community Hospital. As a past president of the American Osteopathic Association, former president of Pennsylvania Osteopathic Medical Association, and former president of the American Osteopathic College of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology/ Head and Neck Surgeons, Dr. DiMarco has long maintained a leadership role within the osteopathic medical profession. In addition to his involvement with the AOA, Dr. DiMarco was team ophthalmologist for the Philadelphia

76ers from 1995 to 2006 and currently is among the team physicians for the Erie BayHawks of the NBA Development League. He is board certified in ophthalmology and received his medical degree from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Julia Faller, DO, MS

Dr. Faller is Assistant Professor, Department of Anesthesiology & Pain Medicine at the Roswell Park Cancer Institute, Buffalo, N.Y. and Clinical Instructor of Anesthesiology, Director, Anesthesiology Simulation Program at the School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences, State University of New York at Buffalo. She is a 2005 LECOM Class of 2005 graduate.

Anthony Ferretti, DO

Dr. Ferretti is a clinical professor of osteopathic manipulative medicine, and orthopedic surgery at LECOM. He is board certified in orthopedics and trains residents in the Millcreek Community Hospital Orthopedic Surgery Residency Program. He is also a team physician for the Erie BayHawks of the NBA Development League. He received his medical degree from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Richard Ferretti, JD

Atty. Richard Ferretti is general counsel and director of risk management and corporate compliance for LECOM and teaches medical jurisprudence at the college. He is a graduate of Duquesne University Law School and served as Line Editor and Writer for the Duquesne Corporate Law Journal. Atty. Ferretti is a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, Erie Bar Association, National Association of College and University Attorneys, and has been admitted by the Supreme Court as attorney in good standing and licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania.

Benjamin Ingram, MD

Dr. Ingram is Chief of Sports Medicine, Family Medicine Residency Clinic, Womack Army Medical Center, Ft. Bragg, N.C. He's a graduate of the Medical University of South Carolina, Charleston and completed his post graduate residency at Eisenhower Army Medical Center, Ft. Gordon, Ga. And the Triservice Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship, USUHS, Bethesda, Md.

Danielle Hansen, DO, MS (Med Ed)

Dr. Hansen is a geriatrics and internal medicine specialist with the LECOM Institute Successful Aging and Medical Associates of Erie. She is vice-president of acute care services and quality/performance improvement at Millcreek Community Hospital (MCH) and a clinical assistant professor of internal medicine at LECOM. She earned her medical degree from LECOM and completed her residency at MCH. She completed her fellowship training in geriatric medicine at LECOM. She is board certified by the American College of Osteopathic Internists and possesses a Certificate of Added Qualifications in Geriatric Medicine. She received her Master of Science degree in Medical Education at LECOM.

Blake Hoppe, DO, MS (Med Ed)

Dr. Hoppe is a clinical assistant professor of internal medicine and neurology from LECOM. She is a board certified clinical neurologist with the LECOM Institute for Successful Aging. Dr. Hoppe received her medical degree LECOM. She completed her internship at Millcreek Community Hospital and her residency in Neurology at Hamot Medical Center. She received her Master of Science degree in Medical Education at LECOM.

Eric Milie, DO, MS (Med Ed)

Dr. Milie is a graduate of LECOM and completed his post-graduate training at Millcreek Community Hospital (MCH). Dr. Milie is board certified by the American College of Osteopathic Internists. He currently serves as an Internist with Medical Associates of Erie and is Medical Director at the Pennsylvania Soldiers' and Sailors' Home. At MCH, he is chairman of the department of internal medicine, internal medicine residency director and emergency room physician. He serves on the Pennsylvania Osteopathic Medicine Association Board of Trustees and is the President of POMA District Seven. Dr. Milie received the prestigious title of Fellow of the American College of Osteopathic Internists. He earned his Master of Science degree in Medical Education at LECOM.

Jeffrey Myers, JD

Atty. Jeffrey Myers was outside counsel for LECOM prior to joining the college as Associate General Counsel. He graduated first in his class from St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia and went on to earn his law degree from the University of Pennsylvania Law School. He began as a law clerk for Blank Rome Comisky and McCauley and became an associate and later a partner with Blank Rome LLP, practicing in the areas of labor and employment law and in corporate compliance. He is a member of both the Pennsylvania and Florida bar associations and is licensed to practice in both states. He has argued cases in numerous state and federal courts and before the Third and Seventh U. S. Circuit Courts of Appeal. Atty. Myers has been a contributing editor on three books; written numerous articles; and presented scores of lectures before national and regional legal audiences. He is a member of the National History, Political Science and Jesuit honor societies.

Steve O'Donnell, DO

Dr. O'Donnell is a LECOM graduate and is a LECOM assistant clinical professor of family medicine and OMM. Dr. O'Donnell practices family and neuromusculoskeletal medicine with Medical Associates of Erie. He completed his neuromusculoskeletal and osteopathic manipulative medicine fellowship program at Millcreek Community Hospital and LECOM.

Mitchell H. Paulin, M.D.

Dr. Polin is a Colonel in the United States Army Reserve Medical Corps and currently practices at Rehabilitation Associates of the Main Line in Paoli, Pa. He earned his medical degree at the Universidad del Noreste School of Medicine, Tampico, Mexico. Dr. Paulin completed is post-graduate medical training at Presbyterian-University of Pennsylvania Medical Center, Philadelphia, Pa., in general surgery, pediatric surgery, and physical medicine and rehabilitation (PM&R). He conducted postdoctoral research in non-invasive techniques for detecting deep venous thrombosis (duplex ultrasonography), Garden State Vascular Laboratory, Marlton, N.J. and he is clinical faculty at Bryn Mawr Rehabilitation Hospital for the PM&R residents

Thomas Quinn, DO

Dr. Quinn is Clinical Professor of Family and Occupational Medicine at LECOM Bradenton. is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. Following Internship at the Lancaster Osteopathic Hospital, now the Heart of Lancaster Medical Center, he served as a physician in the U. S. Navy stationed at the Naval Air Station Hospital, Albany, Ga. After discharge from active duty, Dr. Quinn established a family practice in Lancaster, PA where he practiced for twenty-two years. He is Board Certified in Family Practice. While in Lancaster he was a member of the Naval Reserve for ten years and the PA Army National Guard for twelve years. While in the National Guard Dr. Quinn served as the Commander of the 103rd Medical Battalion, Division Surgeon of the 28th Infany Division and State Surgeon of the PA National Guard. Dr. Quinn moved to Florida in January 1990 and was the Vice-President of Medical Management for the JSA Corporation, the National Medical Director for Humana Workers' Compensation, and Medical Director of the Florida League of Cities. He received an additional Board Certification in Occupational Medicine. Currently he is a Clinical professor at the Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine - Bradenton. His book "THE FEMININE TOUCH: Women in Osteopathic Medicine" is in its second printing.

Robert M. Stutman

Bob Stutman made a 25-year career as one of America's highest profile drug busters. Bob, as head of DEA's largest office in the world, New York, became so visible; the Columbian Cartel had at one time targeted him for assassination. Considered to be one of the nation's top experts on drugs, Bob established The Stutman Group, a Management Consulting firm that designs and implements comprehensive and practical substance abuse prevention programs for communities, corporations and school systems across the nation. The Boston Herald Magazine says Bob Stutman is an "S.O.B on the side of angels"; Dan Rather calls him "one of our nation's heroes" Stutman is, according to the New York Magazine, formerly "the most famous narc in America."

Conflict of Interest

All faculty participating in continuing medical education programs sponsored by LECOM are expected to disclose to the program audience any real or apparent conflicts of interest related to the content of their presentations.